NEGROES CAME ARMED

They Found Large White Force and Concluded to Hunt Squirrels.

(Special Dispetch to The Times.)
WYTHEVILLE, VA., October 10.—Fifteen negroes, armed with shotguns, made their appearance at the place of registration for Porter's Cross Roads Precinct when the books were opened for registration yesterday. It is thought their motive was intimidation. However, some sixty white people ware present all in line waiting their turn to register, and the negroes made no demonstration, all of them finally going squirrel-hunting.

The precinct is one of the largest in the county and includes the town of Ivanhoe, a thriving mining town and the seat of operations of the New River Mining Company.

There are a large number of negro voters in this precinct, very few of whom will register. Registration closes there

B. Shuey, of Kansas, chaplain-in-chief. During the day the Committee on Legislation presented its report, which was devoted especially to the committee's ef-forts to secure a modification of the civil service laws in the interests of veterans which it was stated Congress had falled to concede. The committee finds that the President is in hearty sympathy with the effort to secure a broader recognition of the claims of the soldiers and "in marked contrast to the attitude of Congress."

FOR A CITIZENS' CORPS.

Considerable time was devoted to a proposition to eliminate from the regulations of the order the provision against the admission to auxiliary bodies of those who have borne arms against the Union The suggestion was made by some of the Southern delegates, who advocated the organization of a citizens corps in connection with the Grand Army. No action was taken.

Resolutions were adopted by the encamp ment having in view liberal treatment of veterans in the matter of public offices and pensions. Kindred bodies to the parent organization also brought their sev eral conventions to a close, the Sons of Veterans, Woman's Relief Corps and other bodies choosing officers for the engu ing year.

SPLIT IN THE UNION.

The Union Veterans' Union had a decidedly lively day, and the final result was a split in the organization. The first row was over a question of eligibility to membership. A resolutio nwas adopted that let down the bars too much to suit some of the State delegations with a large membership in the order. This caused ill feeling. Later the friction in the union developed rapidly, in consequence of a committee of the order, which had been investigating the character and conduct of Commander-in-Chief Dyrenforth, adoptpension of the Commander-in-Chief. General Dyrenforth was presiding over the convention when the committee endeav-ored to report. He refused to recognize it or to surrender his office to the next ranking officer of the order. Turbulent scenes followed, until finally a large ele-ment of the organization withdrew, those remaining re-electing General Dyrenforth and the seceders taking steps to form a new union
